

Food Safety Supervisor Course

Fast and effective training for your food business

The Illawarra
Business College

RECEIVE THE TRAINING YOU NEED TO COMPLY WITH NSW FOOD SAFETY REGULATIONS

EVERY FOOD BUSINESS MUST COMPLY

The Food Act 2003 (NSW) and Food Regulation 2015 requires every business serving food that is ready to eat, potentially hazardous or not sold and served in its package, to have an appropriately trained Food Safety Supervisor. Each affected business must nominate a person who has a Food Safety Supervisor Certificate with the NSW Food Authority. The Certificate is valid for a 5 year period.

RELEVANT TRAINING

Our course covers the two essential units of competency required to obtain a Food Safety Supervisor Certificate—the SITXFSA001 Use hygienic practices for food safety and SITXFSA002 Participate in safe food handling practices. During the course you will learn how to:

- Follow hygiene procedures and identify food hazards
- Report any personal health issues
- Prevent food contamination
- Manage allergens and customers with allergies appropriately*
- Effectively clean and sanitise food preparation surfaces and equipment*
- Handle eggs and egg products safely*
- Prevent cross-contamination by washing hands
- Follow food safety program
- Store food safely
- Prepare food safely
- Provide safe single use items
- Maintain a clean environment
- Dispose of food safely

SIMPLE NO FUSS TRAINING

Our course is generally delivered over one day and consists of 6 hours face-to-face training. When you enrol, you will receive some material which you need to read before the course. To satisfactorily complete the course, you will need to complete an assessment which will consist of multiple choice and/or short answer questions and a practical demonstration in our kitchen. Upon successful completion of the course you will receive your certificate from NSW Food Authority. For an additional payment of $30 you can also receive a Statement of Attainment for the units SITXFSA001 Use hygienic practices for food safety and SITXFSA002 Participate in safe food handling practices.

*Refresher courses are also available—conditions apply.
