

Diploma of Hospitality Management (Food & Beverage stream)

Descriptor

This qualification reflects the role of individuals who use sound knowledge of industry operations and a broad range of managerial skills to coordinate hospitality operations. Individuals operate independently, have responsibility for others and make a range of operational business decisions.

Possible Job Titles

- Banquet or function manager
- Front office manager
- Hotel manager
- Restaurant manager
- Unit manager (catering operations).

Mode of delivery

This course is delivered to domestic students in face-to-face classes of 20 hours per week or mixed mode (face-to-face and online and on-the-job). A work placement component of 600 hours is mandatory and will be at a suitable hospitality venue. The work placement may be paid or unpaid.

Assessment

Assessment for this qualification is by written reports, case studies, projects, role plays, written assessments and third party reports as well as portfolios of evidence and workplace reports. Practical assessments will be conducted in a fully-equipped, operational restaurant or a workplace facility that meet industry standards.

Recognition of Prior Learning

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is available to all students applying for this qualification. RPL is the recognition of your current skills and knowledge acquired through prior learning from other training, work or life experience.

Target Groups

Students who wish to work in the hospitality industry in restaurants, hotels, motels, and other hospitality areas.

 Students who complete this course will also receive a NSW Food Safety Supervisor Certificate.

Students will receive an Interim Certificate on completion of the SITHFAB002 Provide Responsible Service of Alcohol. Production of this Certificate plus proof of identity to a NSW Service Centre will result in a Competency Card being issued that allows the student to work in a licensed venue.
